NEW YORK, April 21, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Lotus Technology Inc. ("Lotus Tech" or the "Company") (Nasdaq: LOT), a leading global intelligent and luxury mobility provider, today announced that Mr. Qingfeng Feng, Chief Executive Officer, delivered a keynote address at Hong Kong Web3 Festival 2026, Asia's premier crypto event, on April 21, 2026. The presentation focused on intelligent mobility use cases and explored strategic insights into how blockchain and artificial intelligence (AI) empower industrial development.

Mr. Qingfeng Feng, Chief Executive Officer of Lotus Tech, said: "With nearly eight decades of engineering and motorsport heritage, Lotus Tech sees intelligent mobility as a bridge between advanced technologies and everyday use. Web3 and AI are accelerating the industry's shift toward more connected, intelligent vehicle ecosystems. We are exploring how technologies such as blockchain-enabled data security and AI-driven intelligent driving and cockpit systems can enhance user experience while supporting long-term innovation."

"The convergence of AI and Web3 presents opportunities for technology-driven efficiency and innovation across industries. For Lotus Tech, the focus is on disciplined exploration—strengthening core product competitiveness while evaluating how emerging technologies can support new services over time. Our priority remains building a sustainable, long-term value framework for shareholders," added Dr. Daxue Wang, Chief Financial Officer of Lotus Tech.

Hong Kong Web3 Festival is co-hosted by Wanxiang Blockchain Labs and HashKey Group. The previous three editions of this flagship crypto conference brought together over 350 exhibitors and more than 1,200 speakers for in-depth discussions, and attracted a cumulative total of 100,000 attendees since its launch in 2023.
